DESTROYED BY FLAMES.

A FIERCE FIRE VISITS THE CHAUTAUQUA ASSEMBLY GROUNDS.

Nearly a Hundred Cottages Burned Including a Number of Large Boarding Houses--Panic in a Michigan Church; Kentucky Hotel Fire--Other Losses.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., March 22.—A very destructive fire broke out in the Chautauqua Assembly grounds last night at midnight, and raged five hours before it was got under control by the firemen. The fire broke out in the Curtiss cottage, on Whitfield avenue, and was caused by a defective line. The flames spread with great rapidity from cottage to cottage, and at 2 o'clock the entire length of Simpson avenue was in flames. There are 300 cottages in all on the grounds, but during the winter only about sixty families remain there. The residents fought the fire with great vigor, but owing to the meager facilities made little or no headway in checking the flames.

At 3 o'clock seventy-five cottages had been destroyed, including a dozen large boarding houses. Among them was the Parkhurst Place cottage, one of the largest on the grounds, which was built last year at a cost of $15,000. It was only by the most strenuous efforts on the part of the residents that the hotel Atheneum was saved. The total loss will reach $100,000 at the lowest calculation. All the cottages destroyed were furnished, and owing to the rapidity with which the flames spread nothing could be saved. The burned district includes Summerfield, Whittfield and Simpson avenues. The latter was swept clean from the auditorium to the hotel Atheneum.

The buildings were built of dry pine, and burned rapidly. Within ten minutes after the fire was discovered the first cottage was one mass of flames, and half a dozen other cottages had taken fire.

The residents could do nothing to prevent the fire from spreading, owing to the lack of fire apparatus. During the summer months a pumping engine is kept on the shore of the lake to be used in case of fire, but during the other seasons of the year the property of the assembly is left almost wholly unprotected in case of fire.

The flames were prevented from communicating to the Hotel Atheneum by the cottagers tearing down several intervening cottages. Efforts to obtain aid from the fire departments in the neighboring cities proved fruitless. The nearest town, Mayville, five miles distant, has no fire apparatus and no assistance could be obtained from that place.

No lives were lost, although several men were slightly burned while endeavoring to save some household goods. There is very little insurance on the burned property. The losses fall wholly upon the cottage owners. The loss to the Assembly association will be small.

The cottages and boarding houses were owned as follows: Dr. J. Boland, Bradford, Pa.; Ecker & Parkhurst, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Judge Wetmore, Warren; William Martin, Mayville, N. Y.; Mrs. W. T. Baker, Akron, O.; Mrs. Ballard, Mrs. Curtis, Dr. Curtis, J. H. Rummaghi, E. L. Ailing, Akron, O.; The Fox cottage, the Warquitt cottage, Mrs. Siegfried, E. B. Thorpe, Mrs. Thompson, of Buffalo; Mrs. Cook, Elder William Rice, Amie Cummings, Rev. Mr. Bowers, William Garnett, Mrs. Brinstoll, Rev. W. W. Painter, Mrs. Captain Payne, Mrs. Flint, Rev. Theodore Flood, Meadville; Rev. J. H. Pence, Rev. Dr. Chaplin, Philadelphia; J. C. Seaford, two houses; Rev. Mr. Moore and others. The cottages of Mrs. R. H. Jenman and Mrs. Wagner, on Simpson avenue, were the only buildings saved on that thoroughfare. The summer residence of Hon. Louis Miller, founder of the Chautauqua assembly, was saved. The Ecker & Parkhurst house cost $15,000, and was built last season.

Lynne Hall, one of the winter residents at the Assembly grounds fought the fire until he was prostrated and he is now reported to be in a serious condition. No other accidents are reported. Mrs. Duvall, who was living in the Curtiss cottage, where the fire broke out, barely escaped with her life. Six cottages on Ashbury avenue were destroyed in addition to those already reported. Among the additional losses are the following cottages: Mrs. Carnahan's, Rev. Dr. Goodrich, Rev. Kimberlake, Mrs. Gibbons, L. T. Neal, R. M. Smith and Mr. Heath.

The burned district was one of the most sightly on the lake. The Simpson and Summerfield avenues ran parallel with the Lake Front, and a boulevard and park divided them from the water. All the large shade trees have been burned down and the fire will take away much of the charm and beauty of Chautauqua.

Panic in a Methodist Church.

HOLLY, Mich., March 22.—The Methodist church was completely filled with a large crowd of citizens last night who had assembled to listen to an address on the prohibition amendment question. The speaker, W. A. Taylor, of Lansing, had proceeded with his subject but a short time, when it was discovered that the church was on fire. At the alarm the people made a rush for the doors, and a scene of confusion at once ensued. Several ladies fainted in the excitement, and a panic seemed imminent. This, however, was averted, and the room was emptied without serious injury to any of the audience.

The fire was caused by a lighted ball of rags soaked in kerosene, which some miscreant threw under the church door after the audience had gathered. The flames were extinguished with but slight damage to the building. A vigorous effort will be made to hunt the incendiary down. It is charged that anti-Prohibitionists are at the bottom of the diabolical plot, but of course this is mere guess work.

At Troy, New York.

TROY, N. Y., March 22.—J. Onderkirk's waste warehouse, and the Grand Central theater were destroyed by fire this morning. Onderkirk's loss is $12,000; insured for $4,500. Loss on building $1,000; insured. The loss on the Grand Central, owned by Zeph F. McGill and leased by Peter Curley, is $10,000; insured for $8,000. While the theater was burning two loud explosions were heard, probably caused by chemicals in the property room. It was reported that two men were missing in the fire at the Grand Central.

THE FLOOD AT BISMARCK.

The River Still Rising and Doing a Very Amount of Damage.

BISMARCK, Dak., March 22.—The river has risen slowly all day and is still rising an inch an hour, having passed the high water mark of the memorable flood of 1881. All the low lands are now inundated. The only houses flooded on the Bismarck side are a few squatters' shacks. Bismarck is forty feet above water. From the bluffs one can see huge cakes of ice piled up in the streets of Mandan, and the water extends to near the Inter-Ocean hotel. The only method of communication between the towns is via Cheyenne and Ogallala.

Boston syndicate property, including flour mill, and some fifty residences, elevator, shops and everything south of the track is submerged. The Upper Heart river has not yet broken. The loose ice has begun running again. The indications are that the Fort Buford rise is beginning to be felt. All boats are still safe, as is the Northern Pacific warehouse, the river being so wide that the ice no longer crowds them. Superintendent Odell received telegrams from the western division of the road via St. Paul, that trains are running through to Mandan from Portland, no other bridges being out.

Scenes of the Flood.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 22.—Judge Francis of Dakota, reached here to-day. He says the scenes of the flooded districts are indescribable. Ice cakes 100 feet square were thrown in the air several feet whenever they struck an obstacle. The force of the current snatched a cable holding the warehouses to the bank, as though it was a common thread. The warehouse, over 600 feet long, was moved some distance and landed high and dry. If the Missouri river should now freeze and the Yellowstone break away and pour its ice against the ice in the Missouri, the result to Mandan would be terrible.

It seems strange, said the judge, to have Mandan in full view, yet less accessible to communication than London. Several tons of Western mail have been brought back from Bismarck to be sent around via Union Pacific.

THE BUFFALO HOLOCAUST.

Searching in the Ruins for the Dead—Condition of the Injured.

BUFFALO, March 22.—The hotel safe was taken from the ruins of the Richmond house this morning and opened. In two large pocket books, wrapped in thick paper and sealed, were found $20,000 worth of diamonds belonging to Max Adler, of New York, and in a leather box belonging to Louis E. Smith, of New York, between $6,000 and $10,000 worth of diamonds and jewelry.

At noon the work of tearing down the dangerous walls began. When this is complete the arduous task of searching for bodies will be renewed.

The injured at the hospital are slowly improving, excepting Edward Wheeler, of Newburg, who is very low; Mary Nolan, a servant, who is not expected to live; Clinton Bidwell, Maggie Muirhead and Fanny Hayes, the latter two servants, whose cases are critical.

H. V. Altshul, of New York, will be able to leave in a few days; Irving A. Finch, of Scranton, Pa., is improving, and F. K. Moore will leave for Cleveland to-day in a special car accompanied by a nurse.

The list now stands as follows: Known to be dead, six; given up for dead, five; missing, six. There has been added to the list of missing since the last report, George Thompson, a commercial traveler for an umbrella house, came here Thursday from Erie and was to stop at the Richmond, not heard from since, and an aged couple from New York, names unknown, who told Rev. Dr. Brown, of St. Paul's church, on Thursday night that they were stopping at the Richmond and would attend services Sunday morning. They have not been seen since the fire.

Joseph Sayers, of New York, reported missing, has turned up in Lockport. He did not stop at the Richmond.

Mysterious Disappearance.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 22.—Harry L. Adams, for eight years a bookkeeper for the Evening Star Publishing company, disappeared on Tuesday last, and has not since been heard of. He was one of the administrators of George Adams' estate, late president of the company. His accounts are all right, and the affair is a mystery. He left here purporting to go to Baltimore.

A Hundred Thousand Short.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 22.—S. H. Baker, president of the United States Mortgage Trust and Debenture company, has disappeared, and it is reported that he is $100,000 wrong in his accounts with the stockholders of that concern, who are mostly people of small means scattered throughout the eastern, middle and west states.

A Bride Suicides.

NEW YORK, March 22.—Philippina Muth, aged eighteen, and a bride of scarcely two weeks, shot herself through the heart this morning on the third floor of the tenement house, No. 180 Avenue A. She died almost instantly. No cause is assigned for the suicide. She seemed to be happy and contented.

A Cold Wave.

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 22.—The mercury Saturday at 6 a. m. registered 35 degrees and in exposed places reached the freezing point. The accompanying frost caused a loss of probably $10,000 to truck gardens around Charleston. The freeze was general in the coast belt of South Carolina.

Charged With Complicity.

BOSTON, March 22.—Sidney S. Hartshorn, late postoffice inspector at New York, appeared before Commissioner Hallett to-day, charged with complicity in the Massachusetts Watch company swindle. He waived examination, and was held under bonds for the grand jury.

WINCHESTER, O., March 22.—There are over fifty cases of mumps at Locust Grove, this Adams county. Seven deaths occurred yesterday. The schools are all closed.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

NO APPOINTMENTS MADE IN THE INTERSTATE COMMISSION.

Three of the Appointments Still in Doubt. Active Contest for the Secretaryship. The Monotony of the Civil Service Commission—Other Capitol Notes.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—It is stated at the White House that no further progress has been made in the selection of the interstate commerce commission and that the appointments cannot be announced for several days yet. The impression prevails that new obstacles have been encountered. The representation has been very strongly made to the president that the geographical distribution must be rearranged, so as to give one member to the northwest, east of the Mississippi.

Ex-Congressman Crapo, of Massachusetts, has declined or been dismissed from the list of eligibles, as is understood, in consequence of railroad interests which he could not afford to surrender. It is now intimated that three of the commissionerships are more or less in doubt. The contest for the secretaryship of the commission has become quite active. Mr. Jones, private secretary to Assistant Secretary Mulvane, and Mr. Cowell, of Philadelphia, are regarded as among the leading candidates.

People Who Want Office.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The civil service commissioners a day or two ago received a letter from a public school teacher in Michigan, wanting to know if some of the commissioners wouldn't bring her a blank application the next time he happened to be in her neighborhood. A blank form was sent to her and was shortly after returned filled up. Her age was stated at forty-nine, but the physician who certified to her health said that, though she was forty-nine, he could assure the commissioner she did not look a day over thirty-five, and was as spry as a woman of thirty.

A gentleman down in Texas whose application looked us if a dozen animated self-inflicting devils had been dancing the Virginia reel over it, wrote that during the time his appointment was pending he would accept any office that paid over $5,000 a year.

Another lady who wished to change her back woods residence for a government employee's desk in the capital sent her mother's marriage certificate to prove her age, and also enclosed with the application a letter asking the commissioners to keep President Cleveland from going to the theater that week as she had a premonition that something horrible would happen to him if he went there.

The Interstate Commission.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The make-up of the interstate commerce commission is now nearer a settlement now than it was when ex-Governor Robinson left for Boston to offer the place he had declined to ex-Congressman Crapo, of Massachusetts. Mr. Crapo is in Washington now, and it is authoritatively stated that he has declined to accept the position.

Training Boat and Crew Go Down.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The navy department is informed of the loss of one of the boats of the training ship Saratoga, at Trinidad, and the drowning of its occupants, the paymaster's clerk and three others. The four men had been ashore and were returning to the ship when the boat was swamped.

Recorder of Deeds Trotter Better.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Mr. Trotter, the now recorder of deeds for this district, who was attacked with a serious case of pneumonia last Thursday, is reported better to-day. The physicians think the crisis of the disease is passed.

FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT.

John Rapp Scalded With Vitriol at Grasselli Chemical Works.

CINCINNATI, March 22.—John Rapp, aged thirty-seven years, living with his family at 72 Martin street, was frightfully scalded while at work at Grasselli's chemical works at Pearl and Martin streets, about noon yesterday. Rapp is employed about the plant to do general work, and about 12 o'clock he was standing near the vitriol vats. He threw something into one of the vats and the acid splashed out. Some of it struck him under the chin and ran down his breast, scalding him in a frightful manner.

The unfortunate fellow fairly shrieked with agony, and his cries could be heard over a square away. He was carried to the office of the works, and one of the physicians of the Good Samaritan hospital summoned. Everything possible was done to alleviate his sufferings, after which he was carried home. The sufferer prayed for death, and it was with difficulty that he was prevented from doing violence to himself.

Senator Cameron for President.

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 22.—During Senator Cameron's recent visit to this city, a conference was held at the residence of his father, Gen. Simon Cameron, at which the question of the Senator's candidacy for president was discussed. C. L. Magee, who is known as the Cameron manager in state politics, and Henry Bush, of Reading, another trusted lieutenant, were present. After weighing the subject in all its phases, the senator is understood to have given authority to his friends to press his name on the Republicans of the state, and they confidently claim that the delegation from this state in the next convention will be solid for Cameron.

Alleged Counterfeiter Arrested.

CINCINNATI, March 22.—Elmer Cooper, aged twenty-five of Liverpool, O., was arrested by Lieutenant Rakel last night on suspicion that he was the man who, two weeks ago, acknowledged to Charles Waters, of Pinkerton's detective agency, that he was showing counterfeits and was willing to turn over $1,000 bogus money to him. He denies the charge and will be examined by the United States commissioners.

OUTRAGE AGAINST JEWS.

A Dastardly Attempt of Regulators to Drive Them From a Parish.

NEW ORLEANS, March 22.—The outrages against Jewish merchants broke out again last week, but are not meeting with the same favor and success of that Witkowski case last fall. Two of the leading merchants of Avoyelles are Messrs. Kahn, of Evergreen, and Felix Bauer, of Cottonport, both Jews. They were doing a fine business. Business jealousies, coupled probably with some of that anti-Semitic feeling, which so often shows itself in rural sections, moved a number of wild young men to seek to drive them from the parish.

The anti-Semites rode up to the Kahn store and riddled it and the surrounding fence with bullets. The next day Mr. Kahn and Mr. Bauer were served with notices calling attention to what the mob had done, and warning them to leave the parish at once if they wished to save their lives. The motives of the rioters was well shown by their proclamation posted in a number of public places, declaring that the people of Avoyelles—as they styled themselves—wanted no more Jews among them, and therefore advised all Jews to leave the parish by April, under penalty of death. Much to the disgust of the "regulators," however, the master has been brought to the attention of the governor, and he has responded by offering a large reward for the arrest and conviction of the regulators concerned in the affair. The state's attorney is preparing for a vigorous campaign, and a large number of arrests will soon be made.

Mine Search Improving.

CHICAGO, March 22.—Mine Seacheli, the celebrated singer, who has been lying at the Grand Pacific for the past ten days suffering from a combination of nervous prostration and incipient typhoid fever, is in an improved condition and her physicians expect that unless unfavorable symptoms again become manifest, she will be able to leave her room at the close of the present week. It is doubtful, however, if she will be able to complete the balance of her contract with the Patti company. Numerous rumors are afloat regarding the origin of the nervous prostration which laid the foundation for her illness; one hinting at internal dissensions in the company, growing out of the ovations and favorable comments which were tendered and given the artiste at Omaha and other western and northwestern points, and another that it was due to trouble growing out of the non-payment of her salary. The latter story, however, is not believed in view of the great success which has attended the Patti tour. Neither Mine Seacheli nor her husband will talk on the matter.

two hundred and eighty-eight acres assessed at sixty-five dollars an acre.

STILL UNDECIDED.

The Success of the Maysville Manufacturing Association — No Report From the Soliciting Committee.

The adjourned meeting at the Mayor's office last evening in the interest of the proposed Maysville Manufacturing Association was well attended. A goodly number of the business men of town were on hand—not as many, though, as we should like to have seen. Nor was the number as large as it ought to have been. Those who were there, however,
meant business, and an earnest determination to do all they could to further the enterprise and make it a success, if possible, was plainly manifest.

Chairman R. A. Cochran was not present on account of sickness.

Secretary W. W. Ball called the meeting to order and stated that the soliciting committee was not yet ready to make any report. The members of the committee are all active business men, and all had been so busy the past week that nothing
had been done towards soliciting stock
for the association.

Mr. Mathews, Chairman of the committee, and others, were reverse to making any report until the business men of town—the men of means—the property owners—had been seen, and it was definitely known just what they would do in the matter. "If they didn't give the proper encouragement to the undertaking," remarked one of the committee,
"we need go no further." It is believed,
however, that the committee will meet with success. Subscriptions will be solicited some time this week—probably today or to-morrow—and the worst will be known before many days. The meeting adjourned till next Monday night, at which time a report from the committee is expected.

Cleverly Caught.

Robert Wilson, colored, was arrest yesterday afternoon and lodged in the station house by Marshal Heflin, to answer the charge of house-breaking. He is accused of burglarizing Sorries & Son's store the other night and taking three pistols. He admits his guilt and says he effected an entrance from the rear of the store. Dan. O'Brien bought one of the pistols from Wilson and then sold it to a young man named Wallace, living on the Fleming pike. Wallace took it to Mr.
Sorries yesterday afternoon to be repaired.
It was a thirty-two calibre, five-shot,
ivory-handle Colt's revolver and Mr. Sor-ries at once identified his property.
It was soon traced back to Wilson,
with the above result. Wilson is only about sixteen years old, but this is not his first offense. He was up some months ago for stealing a pair of boots on one occasion, and some rabbits on another.
The present charge is felony and if convicted he will be given a term at Frankfort.

REV. R. B. GARRET, while coming up Second street last night, was attacked by some animal near the residence of Chas.
B. Pearce. The animal made no noise at all, and in the darkness Mr. Garrett could not see whether it was a dog or not.
It was, no doubt, one of the many worthless curs that roam the streets. The wound, which is near one of the ankle joints, is a painful one.

MANCHESTER must have some pretty tough citizens. One of them was ar-aigned the other day in the police court and talked to the judge in the following language: "You may fine me as much as you d—d please, and put me in jail or do what you d—d please with me but b—g—d I won't work."

Such fellows ought to be sent to the work house for about six months on plain bread and cold water.

OWENS & BARKLEY received twenty tons of rails, fish-plates and spikes by the steamer Louis A. Sherley last night for the Maysville Street Railway and Transfer Company. The rails were made at Pittsburg, and are of the best Bessemer steel. The timbers for the bridge across the small creek east of Chester are being gotten out, and work on the extension of the street railroad to the cemetery will be commenced to-morrow or Thursday.

AN ALLEGED FRAUD.

The St. Andrews Bay Land and Railway Company.

The Cincinnati Enquirer says: "Guy
Webber, the head of the concern known as the St. Andrews Bay Land and Railroad Company, was arrested Saturday by Deputy Marshal McIlvaine and taken before Judge Sage. He had been indicted by the United States Grand Jury for violating the postal laws. He pleaded not guilty, and was released on $1,000 bond.
He was indicted on the affidavits of Jas.
Dixon, Cyrus Miller and Joseph Bergdorf.
They claim that Webber received money from them for which he agreed to furnish them with certain lands, which, they claim, were not what he promised."

The above will be a matter of interest to quite a number of people in this city,
as the St. Andrews Bay Land and Railroad Company has been doing a pretty extensive business here for some time past.

The plan as worked here may be briefly summed up: The company claimed to own an extensive tract of land near St. Andrews Bay, Fla. This had been platted off into twenty-acre lots,
and the company offered to sell every other lot at an extremely low price—give it away, in fact,—in order to induce emigration, claiming that they would be amply repaid by the enhanced value of the land retained by them. Twenty-five cents would secure a certificate entitling
the holder to a deed for twenty acres,
and $1 was then required for the recording of the deed. All this money had to be sent to the company at 227 Main street, Cincinnati, O. No one individual could secure more than two lots. As an extra inducement, the company furnished plans for cottages which they offered to erect on the lots at small cost and on five years' time.

Quite a number of people here have invested in the "scheme." Their certificates were received but they always contained a notice that they would have to be returned to the company, with the $1
for the deed, within a specified time, otherwise they would be of no value.

Postmaster Respess was notified yesterday morning by the postoffice authorities not to issue any more money orders payable to the company. So far as this section is concerned, it is safe to say that no more lots will be sold. Those who invested are out $1.25 or $1.50, but they are that much wiser.

Trade Dollars.

Trade dollars are just as valuable now as the standard silver dollar for all the purposes of trade, but the time in which this will hold good has been fixed by Congress at six months from March 4th.
The people who have any of these dollars stored away must avail themselves of this opportunity, if they ever expect to get rid of them at one hundred cents on the dollar.

Requested.

IS WITHOUT A PARALLEL

A PECULIAR DAMAGE SUIT IN A NEW YORK COURT.

S. B. STEINMANN Demands Ten Thousand Dollars of Reuben Isaacs Because the Latter Would Not Let Him Marry His Daughter—The Only Case on Record.

NEW YORK, March 22.—On the court of common pleas calendar for this week is a case which, if old lawyers tell the facts, is without a parallel. It is known as "No. 1030, Steinmann vs. Isaacs," and promises some very strange developments. The action is for $10,000, and the peculiar thing about it is that the plaintiff demands this amount from the defendant because the latter would not allow him to marry his daughter. This is said to be the first case of the kind ever heard of, and the verdict will be looked for anxiously by wealthy parents who happen to be possessed of fair marriageable daughters. The case is further complicated by the fact that the plaintiff and the young lady, who were at one time engaged, have since then both plucked out other life partners and are now married.

The plaintiff in the case is S. B. Steinmann who is a banker at 93 Broadway. He is about thirty-two years old, short and stout, with black whiskers and mustache. He looks like a Spaniard and affects a foreign air. The defendant, Reuben Isaacs, is the well known importer of Japanese goods, whose place of business is 555 Broadway. He lives at 215 East Sixtieth street, and has one of the most artistically furnished houses in the city. He has two grown daughters, who are handsome young ladies, and it was the elder of them who was at one time engaged to Mr. Steinmann. It appears to have been a case of love at first sight with him, so he offered his hand, and was accepted. According to his story, he believed that the engagement was fully sanctioned by the young lady's parents, and, as a big party was given at the house shortly after, to which he was invited, the happy young man took it to be given in honor of the engagement.

In his complaint, Mr. Steinmann alleged that he was most devoted to the young lady whom he designed to grace his home. He further states that he believed that Miss Isaacs loved him deeply in return and that he left nothing undone to make her engagement a happy one. He states that everything went well after the ante-nuptial feast until one day the father of the young lady rose in his might and politely informed young Steinmann that he never intended he should marry his daughter and would not allow him to. He would give no reason for his determination, however. All sorts of rumors are afloat about the reason for Mr. Isaacs forbidding the婚 and his lawyer said that they are the best in the world, but he could not say what they are until he gets Steinmann on the witness stand, and then he proposes to have some fun with him. The complaint further states that the plaintiff still loves the young daughter of the defendant. It was only a short time after his rejection as a son-in-law that Mr. Steinmann began his action. In the meantime, however, some events occurred which would prevent the defendant from compromising the action by offering his daughter's hand to the plaintiff.

Mr. Steinmann had hardly left the field when another suitor presented himself. He proposed in due course of time, was accepted, and about a year ago Miss Isaacs became his wife. The friends of Mr. Steinmann openly declare that he was thrown over because of the richer suitor who presented himself. When he heard of the marriage Mr. Steinmann was in despair for a few months, but he made up his mind to take matters philosophically. He saw he could never marry the Miss Isaacs that was, so he did the next best thing and married some one else, and is now a happy husband. The singular state of affairs will not in any way non-suit the plaintiff.

S. D. Leward, the attorney for Mr. Steinmann, says that he has a good case, and expects to win the suit on the grounds that his client's prospects and plans were upset. J. C. Levi, the attorney for Mr. Isaacs, is equally confident of victory, and bases his case on the mysterious reason that his client had for not allowing the marriage to take place, and which he positively refuses to disclose. He confidently assured your correspondent last night that the case will be a short one. Mr. Isaacs personally denies that he ever gave his parental sanction to his daughter's engagement to Steinmann, and says that he never for a moment thought of him as his future son-in-law.

Troubles of a Forger.

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 22.—About a week ago F. A. Blockwood committed a forgery in Georgia, and fled to his home in Aiken County, South Carolina. Two oilers from Augusta, Ga., crossed the Savannah river, went to Blockwood's house at night, without a requisition, and in violation of state rights, carried him to Georgia. Governor Richardson has determined to uphold the rights of this state. He has telephoned to Governor Gordon to have all proceedings stayed against Blockwood until such investigation is made as will put him in possession of all the facts of his arrest, and to allow time for a substantiation of the charge of kidnapping. Blockwood confessed his guilt, but Richardson will demand his restoration to his home, and will institute proceedings against the Georgia officers for violation of the peace and dignity of the state. Should Georgia refuse to release her prisoner, Governor Richardson will appeal to the supreme court of the United States.

Foot-and-Mouth Fatality.

GAINESVILLE, Tex., March 23.—News has reached here of an accident which occurred near Whitebread Hill, I. T., last week, resulting in the serious injury of a man named Foster and his wife, the killing of two of their children and the destruction of their house. It seems that Foster and family were all in their home, a small log cabin, on a ranch. In the corner of the room sat a can of powder. Foster observed a mouse come up through the floor and run around the can. He secured a small pistol and fired several times at the mouse. Finally one shot struck the can and exploded the powder with the result as above.

There were over two hundred delegations present from the leading brewing establishments of the country. The object of the convention is the formation of a National association.
